7.3. Give two Best Practices of the institution.Title of the Practice:*Gender Sensitization and Social Awareness vis-à-vis Situation in Haryana

The Context: It is oft stated “Education is not the preparation for life; education is life itself”. Educating a girl child helps educate the whole family, therefore being a girls' institute, a perpetual need is felt to strengthen and uplift the status of girls through education. Education involves working on every aspect of a girl's personality, be it- career-building, physical fitness, economic independence, social stature strengthening, etc. This practice epitomizes sustained institutional efforts with long-term and long-range goals to augment their ability, talent and perception along with social, economic, cultural and political roles to overcome discrimination against women. Haryana particularly is plagued with women suppression to the extent that most girls are introvert.

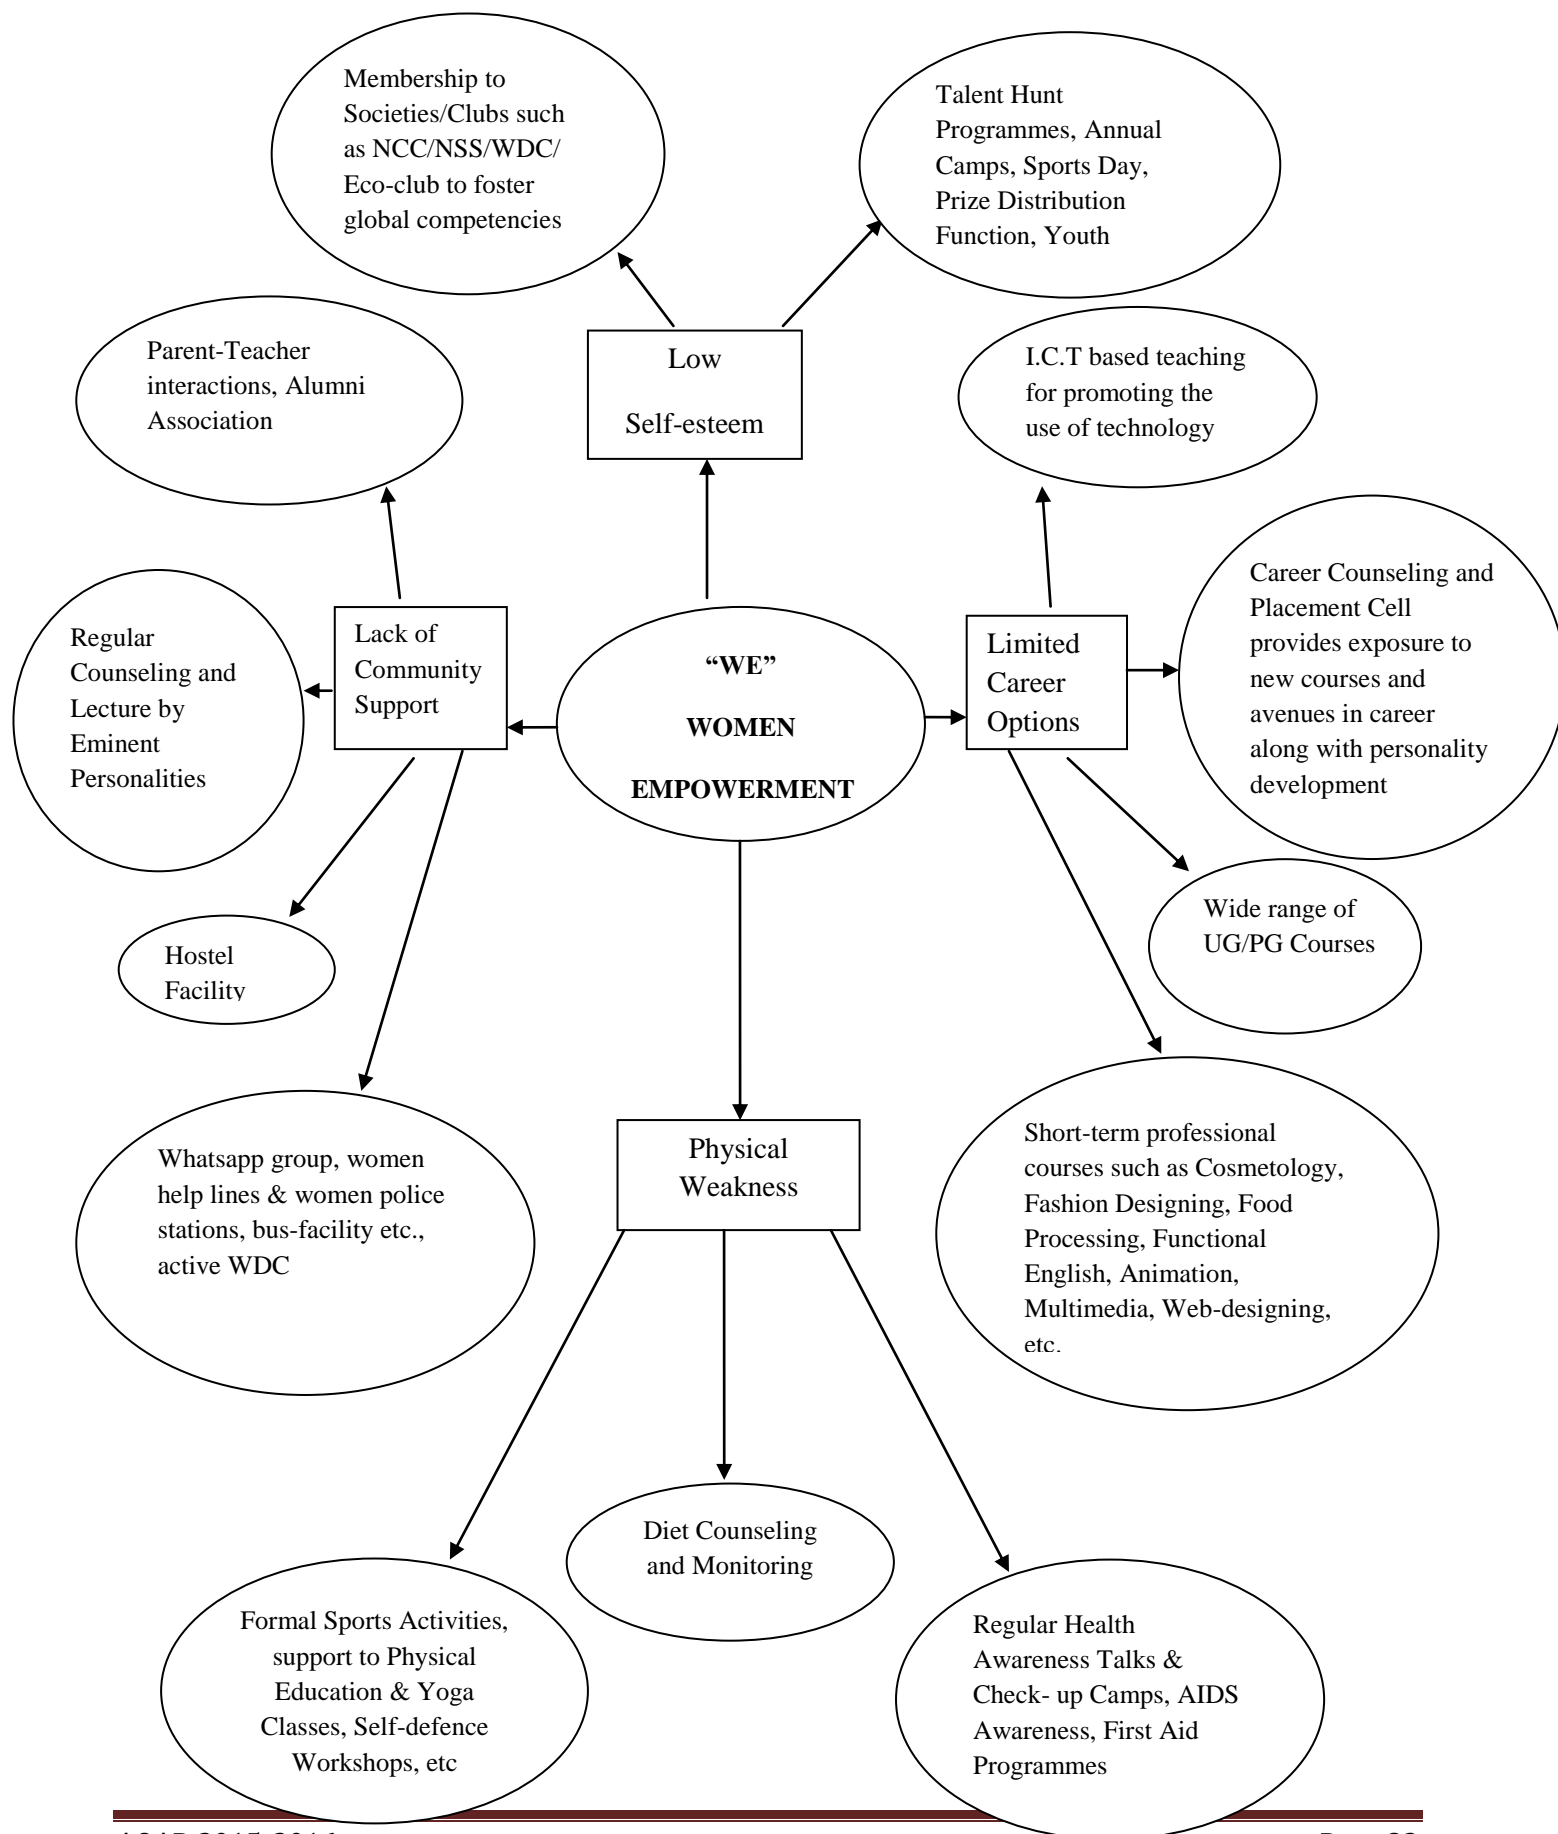

Multiple issues like female infanticide, decreasing sex-ratio leading to “Atta- Batta” practice of forceful marriages, bride burning, dowry related issues, domestic violence have plagued this patriarchal society. Khaps pass dictates like ‘girls be banned from wearing jeans’, ‘marriages within gotras’, etc. The conservative atmosphere mars their efforts to look up individually.
